

In Safe Hands®
Business Services Limited

Put all your accounting, tax and bookkeeping requirements 'In Safe Hands'

Friendly, new service aimed at individuals and small business operators

For most ordinary individuals and small business operators the phrases 'tax returns' and 'bookkeeping' are guaranteed to elicit a sense of dread – though it needn't be that way! In Safe Hands Business Services has been established to soothe your furrowed brow by providing a personalised, friendly one to one service for all your accounting, tax and bookkeeping requirements.

In Safe Hands has been set up to meet the needs of the individual and smaller business operator across a range of functions including:

- Accountancy, bookkeeping and taxation services
- Monthly bookkeeping – Management accounts
- Tax returns (personal and company)
- ITIP & NIC – help with business start-ups
- Cashflow forecasting – payroll and billing

The business was formed by Manx Accountant Julia Clarke, who identified the need locally for an accountancy service designed specifically for the ordinary person in the street, rather than the larger corporate entities: 'Many people, including new residents to the Island, are not sure what their tax responsibilities are both here and in the UK,' explained Julia. 'I can visit them in their own homes, at times they choose, to help clarify the issues for them.'

Julia has already found an enthusiastic market for her sensibly priced business model: 'I've helped individuals with their tax returns, small businesses with their bookkeeping and accounts, and been able to advise people on setting up their own small businesses,' said Julia. 'It's a very friendly and informal service, and something which I think the Island has been short of in recent times.'

Julia can also look after VAT returns for customers, and help them decide on which of the various schemes would suit them best - for example the flat rate scheme for small businesses. Indeed using the services of a skilled professional like Julia can often result in significant and unexpected savings: 'In some cases clients may not be fully aware of all the reliefs and savings they are entitled to. In the case of a small business these sums can be quite substantial.'

Born and brought up in the Isle of Man Julia has extensive experience in the accountancy profession having worked for a leading private bank and one of the Island's top insurance companies. Most recently she spent almost four years with a leading Corporate Service Provider.

Her background means she is ideally suited to provide holiday or sickness cover for SME's and large corporates: 'This might be for a couple of days a week or occasional half days,' explained Julia. 'I can help out among other things with bookkeeping and management accounts.'

There's never been a better time to call upon the services of 'In Safe Hands' as following the publication of this edition of Manx Tails, the first 25 customers to sign up with Julia for a year citing this advertorial can take advantage of a fantastic introductory offer of a 50 per cent saving on her standard fixed fees for the production of annual accounts.

'When you are In Safe Hands, we will always agree our fees up front, and value for money is assured,' said Julia.
